

This sequence diagram outlines the steps for the TeleportAction here the actor attempts to teleport to a random location on the map. If the new location is valid and can be entered by the actor, the actor is moved to the new location, and a success message is returned. If the location is invalid, a failure message is returned

